

REACT NATIVE DEVELOPER

Job Description

LOCATION Claremont, Cape Town

TYPE Permanent

REMUNERATION Market related salary and based on experience and skills

ROLE OVERVIEW

Bluegrass Digital is a leading digital production agency, working with both South African and International client accounts. We are looking for an experienced React Native / JavaScript developer to join us. You will be energetic; passionate about using the latest technologies; and eager to grow your skills by working on Mobile Apps and Responsive Web projects, PWA's, API integrations and more. You will work on some big brand names, some small brand names, and start-ups building some cool projects and having fun along the way. You will be mentored by our Head of Development, who give you exposure to the latest technologies and architectural best practices being used on the web today.

This exciting opportunity is for those that love the world of JavaScript and working on the latest frameworks like React, React Native, VueJS and more! If you are passionate on building web and mobile applications and looking to expand your skills, please get in touch.
